

TEAM MANAGER – NEWCASTLE

– Salary to $85k base, plus super and other incentives

This role will see you heading up a team of around 10 consultants, and you will be using your minimum of 5 years' prior Occ Rehab experience to guide these experienced professionals in their own case management, as well as develop services in the Newcastle areas. This company is a bit of a unique Occ Rehab provider in that they work mostly with the most corporate companies which like to use their service in that they treat the injury in-house usually, and so the turnaround is much faster than many other rehab providers using external treating practitioners. Coupled with the fact this rehab provider will not generally hire anyone without at least 4years' experience in their professions; the corporate companies love to use this provider as they know they will have an experienced case manager and a quick turnaround! You will be rewarded with an excellent salary, salary insurance, super, bonuses, and more to help you to be a successful leader in this role. Monthly travel to Sydney is a part of this role also, so an ability to get down for a day or two monthly is necessary in this post.

PRINCIPAL CONSULTANT – NEWCASTLE

– Salary to $80k base, plus super, and industry leading bonuses

This company is also making great waves across the Occ Rehab industry at present, seeing significant growth and now establishing themselves as a major rehab provider on a national scale! Joining this company as a Principal Consultant will see you develop your management skills and with the recent acquisition of several smaller boutique rehab providers across the East Coast a full Branch Manager role will be considered within 12 months of proving yourself in the role. You will carry a smaller case load in this role, learn this company's way of rehab consulting and then have opportunities locally to progress to a management level role.
